

NEW STUDENTS' MEETING

12 JUNE 2023

It's the time
you lost for your rose, that made your rose so important

"If you come, for example, every afternoon at four, from three I'll begin to be happy. As the hour goes by, my happiness will increase. When it's four o'clock, I'll start to get excited and I'll find out the price of happiness! But if you come, I don't know when, I'll never know at what time to prepare my heart".

3 DAYS

The smallest children and their parent spend the first three days of the acclimation period in the Primavera or Childhood, experiencing all the routines together with the teachers.

FIRST DAY

The parent takes care of the child's primary needs, while the educator observes the relationship methods of the couple. The teacher adopts the parent's strategies and habits for each little guest.

SECOND DAY

The educator joins the couple and enters into a relationship with both. Relationships are known to be reciprocal, so the couple entrusts themselves to the educator who already masters the spaces and the organization of the day.

THIRD DAY

The educator becomes the protagonist, the parent is always present but remains in the background.

FOURTH DAY

The first detachment from the parent takes place, the child will continue the acclimation period with the educators.

THE EDUCATOR

Thanks to this observation of 3 days, the teacher can gradually but comprehensively get to know the child, his habits and his relational modalities, inserting herself into the parental dyad relationship carefully and respecting children and adults' times.

The quality and quantity of time spent together give an important educational dimension which offers the possibility to face a delicate phase.

THE CHILD

The school becomes the safe place where the child and his parent experience several dimensions. The acclimation period is characterized by a familiarity that is reassuring. The child, living immediately every moment of the day, will show at the first detachment a fatigue that will be easier to console, without being disoriented, because in the three days he will have already lived and experienced every routine of the day.

THE PARENT

Spend three days at school with the child, allows the parent to live and know every moment of everyday life and the school becomes for him a familiar environment. Thanks to the presence of the parent at school, the educators can build a relationship of mutual trust. The parents will feel welcomed and listened as an active protagonist of the acclimation period. Parents also have the opportunity to get to know each other
